About the Institute

Avinashilingam Institute for Home Science and Higher Education for Women is situated in Coimbatore, South India. Ever since its inception as a college in 1957, and then its transformation as a University of repute, empowering women through higher education and research, the University has attracted grants from DST, UGC, DRDO, DBT, WHO, FAO, UNICEF among others. The hallmark of this University is to enhance the educational and research aptitude of women while rooting them in cultural and ethical values. This fine blend of modern scientific temper and cultural values has fetched national and international accolades to the University in the form of MoU's with several countries viz, USA, South Korea, Germany, Mongolia, Malaysia and Tanzania.

About the Department

The College of Education was established in 1968 with 70 students in the B.T. course. The College of Education started functioning as the Faculty of Education when Avinashilingam Deemed University was born. The Faculty of Education comprises of three departments viz Education, Special Education and Physical Education. The Department of Special Education offers courses in Special Education since 1985. At present the department is offering the following courses :

- (i) B.Sc. Special Education & Rehabilitation and Mathematics
- (ii) B.Ed. & M.Ed. Special Education (Visual Impairment / Hearing Impairment)
- (iii) M.Phil. & Ph.D. - Special Education

About the Seminar

The expanding horizons of education stay unreached for the underprivileged. Though RPWD Act (2016) ensures equal opportunities for the Persons With Disabilities (PWD) in all walks of life, Inclusive educational placement is the major focus in today's context. It is the responsibility of the system to accommodate the various needs of these people. The paradigm shift from welfare to Human rights calls in for the attention of the educators. Enrollment of the PWD in Higher Education is very low. A sizeable population can access higher education if conducive ambience is entrusted in higher education institutions. This seminar aims at detailing the challenges of Higher Education of Persons with Special Needs (HEPSN) and focuses on the solutions that are feasible.
