The great visionaries and educational stalwarts Dr. T.S. Avinashilingam and Dr. Rajammal P. Devadas established the Avinashilingam Institute for Home Science and Higher Education for Women in 1957 and nurtured it to its current height. The orthodox institution has claimed a principal position in the arena of women's education over a period of 63 years and has evolved with a lot of courage and great commitment. The sole responsibility is to inculcate education and promote research exclusively for the upliftment of the women's community. The institution has made its brand with an “A++” grade by the NAAC in 2021 for its outstanding records and achievements in academic and research excellence and is rated as one of the top-ranked ranked institutes in the country. The institution fosters overall development with a focus on academics, research, sports, and a series of student-led initiatives under NSS, NCC, and Community outreach programs in rural and urban areas.
